

Call For Papers

The 16th IEEE International Conference on Cyber, Physical and Social Computing (CPSCom 2023)

Special Session: Security and Privacy-preserving for Social Computing

Social computing is a rapidly evolving field that leverages the power of computational systems to enhance and understand social interactions. Security and privacy are critical aspects of social computing, given the vast amounts of personal and sensitive data that users share on these platforms. Therefore, it presents significant security and privacy challenges and it is important for users, developers and policymakers to work together to address these issues and ensure that social computing can be used safely and responsibly.

This is a special session of the The 16th IEEE International Conference on Cyber, Physical and Social Computing (CPSCom 2023, <http://iee-cybermatics.org/2023/cpscom/>). It aims to provide a good platform for researchers to exchange and bring together the latest research on security/privacy techniques and applications for social computing. We also welcome the authors to submit papers via the submission site (http://iee-cybermatics.org/2023/cpscom/special_sessions.php) and select the special session of “Security and Privacy-preserving for Social Computing” marked with “CPSCom-SPSC”.

The topics of interests for this special session include, but are not limited to:

- Social Network Security
- Privacy-preserving Data Mining
- Data Storage Security
- Privacy-preserving Computing
- Trusted and Encrypted Computing
- Authentication and Access Control
- Security Applications on Social Network
- Machine Learning Applications to Security and Privacy

Organizers

General Co-Chairs
Huiyu Zhou, University of Leicester, United Kingdom Mingxing He, Xihua University, China Xianhua Niu, Xihua University, China
Technical Program Co-Chairs
Song Han, Hangzhou City University, China Guodong Ye, Guangdong Ocean University, China Yilei Wang, Qufu Normal University, China Yuling Chen, Guizhou University, China Lianyong Qi, China University of Petroleum (East China), China
Local Co-Chairs
Shengke Zeng, Xihua University, China Ling Xiong, Xihua University, China

Important Dates:

Paper Submission Due: September 01, 2023

Authors Notification: October 15, 2023

Final Manuscript Due: October 31, 2023